NOVX SYSTEMS INC. RECEIVES HEALTH CANADA CLASS III APPROVAL

Markham, ON, September 14, 2006 – NOVX Systems Inc. announced today that Health Canada approved their iMDx™ System (iMDx) as a Class III Medical Device for sale in Canada. The iMDx is a near-patient test platform used to screen urine for drugs of abuse and adulterants. “This marks a significant achievement for NOVX. It permits us to provide physicians and clinicians across Canada the tools to accurately and reliably screen urine samples in their own clinics and offices without the need to send them out to third parties.” remarked Dr. Tino Alavie, President and CEO of NOVX. “NOVX has a truly outstanding solution that provides an integrated and fully automated environment for office-based drug screening.”

Drugs of abuse screening is routinely used in addiction management, drug courts, workplace testing and chronic pain management. With its newly approved iMDx, and its clinic management/electronic health record management software (PatientVu™), NOVX has a powerful solution for healthcare professionals. The iMDx combines the advantages of laboratory testing with the convenience of an office-based platform in a fully integrated package.
